Why choose us...

TURNING YOUR DREAM INTO REALITY

Choosing the right home designer for your new project can be difficult and is something that should be considered carefully. A good home designer needs to listen to the clients needs and wants and must be able to translate them onto paper into a home that fulfils the client's brief. The home design must not only be functional and suit all the clients requests, it also needs to be beautiful - both inside and out. That means they can recommend, choose and specify the best materials and finishes for the project.

PASSION FOR CREATING NEW ARCHITECTURAL SPACES

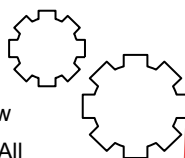

1 - CUSTOM DESIGN

We design and layout the project to suit your needs. We translate your ideas, dream and practicalities into plans used for the constructed result.

Our philosophy is to listen and respond accordingly to provide solutions to a well-designed building. We consider the design stage to be the most critical part of the process. Critical to this stage is to develop a clear understanding of the client's site and determine specific requirements. This is done closely with the client to determine the parameters and expectation of design. At this stage we are able to offer attractive and more economically design option to enhance the design and layout of the project

2 - DETAILED DRAFTING

Detailed drawings give more certainty to the project and are prepared to show dimensions, setbacks, heights and materials all required in the construction. All sets of drawings include a site plan, floor plans, elevations, sections, details, electrical plans and room layouts. Working drawings are completed to satisfy the relevant council requirements, current building codes and Australian Standards.

3 - DOCUMENTATION

MJ Drafting & Designs will prepare the required documentation and co-ordinate all with the required consultants to provide their specific professional services to assist in preparing the plans and documentation required for your project. Most importantly, a certified structural engineer needs to assess the plans to determine the structural viability of the project.

We will also co-ordinate all the required documentation required for council submission, including energy efficiency report, bush fire attack level reports, design compliance report.

4 - APPROVALS

Getting the correct approvals is an important step in the process. MJ Drafting & Designs can assist in submitting all the documentation in order to begin construction. We will complete the form and collate all the required documentation.

5 - CONSTRUCTION

The construction phase is the biggest moment in the process and therefore choosing the right builder is important. MJ Drafting & Designs will help find the right builder for your project and assist in collating the documentation ready for council approvals. With access to many different builder throughout Perth, we can assist in finding the right one.

I highly recommend MJ Drafting & Designs for their drafting and design services. Recently they completed the architectural drawings for our shed extension as well as for our new to build granny flat. They couldn't have been more helpful! All drawings were completed in a timely manner. They also arranged for the structural drawings to be done as well as the design and energy compliance certificates! To top it off, they also filled out all the council application papers! Couldn't be happier with the service! - Marianne

GREAT ARCHITECTURAL SOLUTIONS

Martin completed a unique house design on a pentagonal block. The house was designed to suit the irregular shape and maximize the views and comply with the Landcorp guidelines and BCA. A great result – Terry

MJ Drafting & Designs came highly recommended to us by friends of ours. Now after having used their expertise we would like to pass on their skills to other. The house we got them to draw up plans for was not only a complete renovation, but also a major extension. We gave them our ideas for what we wanted, and they, with their professional experience and suggestions, was more than helpful. They listened, then took our ideas and turned them in a home we are absolutely thrilled with. We have no hesitation in recommending them to anyone looking for a 100% professional draftsman service – Michael & Maureen
